Make me sick
It makes me ache
When think about the way
People lie about their past

The way they look straight into yours
Swear on who they really are
And end up faking all along

Believe in what your told
And you'll walk straight in to a wall believe in what they say and you end up as a perfect prey

I could kill if I had the way
If I had the will
If I could I would
But I die cuz I fall too deep
Oh I fall too far
I could kill

When they stab you in the back
And face you with a smile
Filthy smile

Abuse of innocence
And break ones' confidence
They've used me too many times

I've lost all self esteem
And I cry myself to sleep
Confused to the extreme
My bitterness is anchored deep

I could kill
If I had the way
If I had the will
If I could I would
I would live
I would breathe away
Stand and walk my way
Facing what they say
I could kill if I had the way
If I had the will
I know that I would
But I die cuz falling way too deep
Falling way too far
I could kill
